Dear Parent/Carer

Last term was very busy with students continuing to work hard as well as enjoying the Immersion Day to Tamworth. As we enter the final term before GCSE exams start I am writing to provide you with a few key details regarding Year 11.

Education Evening

It was great to see so many of you in attendance at the Education Evening and the manner in which students have reacted to the evening is very pleasing. For those who were unable to attend, all students have now been given a revision booklet detailing specific things they need to revise for the March and Summer exams. This should act as a starting point for revision and no student can say they don't have anything to revise. All presentations from the Education Evening can be found on the school website under the Year 11 heading.

Following on from the evening, if you have any subject specific questions I have included the contact details of Curriculum Leaders below:-

Mock Exams

Year 11 will have their next round of mock examinations starting on Monday 7 March. Your child has been given their timetable and this should be used to help plan their revision. A copy of the timetable is in the link below. During the mock exam period, intervention will be open to all students. The days of these interventions are also included in the link:-

Finally, I would like to reiterate the fact that the work students complete at home is vital if they are to achieve the outcomes they need for their Post 16 destinations. It really isn't too late to start revising or to change study habits.

I am very proud of how the students have applied themselves so far, but it is imperative that they continue to put in maximum effort over the final few weeks.

Yours sincerely

Mr J Wright
